Axacore–Integra Create Partnership Combining EDM Platform and LOS

San Diego, CA, January 15, 2014– INTEGRA Software Systems has selected Axacore’s award winning Electronic Document Management platform to power the paperless workflow features within their loan origination platforms Destiny and Epic which are used by residential, consumer and commercial lenders.

Building on Axacore’s platform will allow INTEGRA’s existing and new customers access to end to end, enterprise grade Electronic Document Management features without needing to manage a third party vendor.

“Through working closely together on solutions for mutual customers, we have come to know and respect the INTEGRA team and their ‘customer first’ philosophy. With recent regulatory changes, it’s a great time to strengthen and build on this relationship.” said Steve DeBlasio, Vice President of Business Development at Axacore. “The synergy created by having imaged documents and LOS data co-exist is critical for any lender to meet current loan quality standards”, added DeBlasio.

“For nearly two decades, Axacore has been a leader in Electronic Document Management Solutions and has a proven track record of delivering high performance products to some of the largest lenders in the industry.” Said Jerry Pratt, President of INTEGRA. “We are committed to providing our customers the best products available with the highest level of integrity. A partnership with Axacore allows us to focus on our core products while leveraging Axacore’s document management expertise”, added Pratt.
